Bad News From the War
Makes Civilian Necessity Greater

With the exception of the Russian recovery against Germany this has been a war with precious little good news for the side of the United Nations. And the gloom is particularly thick today, for the wires are dropping some strong hints that Britain's great Singapore fortress and naval base is on its last legs.

Russians Take 80 Cities in 10-Week Period

Soviet Estimates
German Losses in Crimea Alone at 40,000

By the Associated Press.
Russian armies driving forward through gale-whipped snowstorms reported Tuesday they had liberated 80 cities and more than 48,000 towns and villages in the past 10 weeks and declared that the Germans had lost 40,000 men in the Crimean battle of Sevastopol alone.

Soviet dispatches said the Red armies were scoring heavy new gains in the Donets river industrial basin in the Ukraine and in the drive against Smolensk, 200 miles west of Moscow. Adolf Hitler's field headquarters acknowledged the Russians were also smashing "in heavy massed attacks" against the German lines before Leningrad but asserted they had been driven back.

On the North African front British headquarters reported little change in the situation with imperial patrols active on a line from Dmimi to El Mechili, 50 miles west of Tobruk.

At sea the German high command declared Nazi bombers attacking a long-protected British convoy off the Egyptian coast scored hits on a light cruiser, a destroyer and two big transports, inflicting such heavy damage that some were "presumed lost."

The Berlin radio said German U-boats operating in the Atlantic had sunk eight more merchant ships totaling 50,500 tons and a corvette. Six of the victims were listed as sunk off the North American coast.

The Italian high command reported Tuesday that torpedo-carrying planes in the eastern Mediterranean hit a British heavy cruiser, while Axis planes once more raided the British bases at Malta and Alexandria.

In London the admiralty announced that British submarines have sunk one Axis supply ship and torpedoed two others, one of which almost certainly sank, in new attacks on enemy transport lanes in the Mediterranean.

Mail Dispatch Time Changed

Postoffice Closes
at 9 p. m. Instead of 9:15

New Missouri Pacific railroad schedules have caused changes in the time of dispatching mail from Hope postoffice. Postmaster Robert M. Wilson announced Tuesday.

Because of the later departure of Train No. 18, northbound, mail formerly dispatched at 5 p. m. is now dispatched at 5:30.

Mail formerly locked up in pouches for north and southbound trains at 4 p. m. is now locked out at 8:45. Accordingly, said Postmaster Wilson, the local postoffice closes at 9 p. m. instead of 9:15, it being the practice to close the building 15 minutes after the last dispatch of mail.

200 U. S. Houses for Hope; Limit Is $3,570 Each

For Defense Workers
With Annual Income $1,380 to $2,400

Hope's first Federal Housing Authority project, on which a bulletin was carried in yesterday's edition at press-time, was announced late Monday afternoon from several different offices.

The project is for 200 demountable housing units, for families of industrial defense workers, with incomes ranging from $1,380 to $2,400, and the Federal Works Agency will handle construction, according to an announcement from the Dallas office of the Office of Emergency Management.

Congressman Owen Harris was quoted in Washington as having been told by the Defense Housing Co-ordinator's office that the units will have a maximum cost of $3,570.

First announcement that President Roosevelt had approved the project was made in a telegram late Monday from Senator Hattie W. Caraway to Mayor Albert Graves. About the same time Senator Lloyd Spencer's office in Washington advised the senator, who is in the city, that the project was ready for construction.

The federal action found the City of Hope prepared to co-operate on the project, Mayor Graves and the council having set up a Local Housing Authority on February 3, acting on the recommendation of George Whittemberg, Little Rock architect, who appeared before the council at the request of the regional Federal Housing Authority.

The council unanimously adopted a resolution setting up the Local Authority, and Mayor Graves is to name five members who will constitute the body. One will be named chairman. The Authority is expected to co-operate with the federal agency in selection of a site and other details of construction, although the latter will be a 100 per cent federally paid matter.

Mayor Graves said Tuesday he had been studying the five-man-appointment question and would announce the membership shortly.

Mr. Wittenberg told the city council a week ago that the demountable houses, a new development in the building industry, cost as much as permanent houses—and that is why the government's intention not only to restrict their use to defense workers, but after the emergency passes, to take the houses off the local real estate market. One probability is that they would be sold off to individual buyers who would guarantee to use them to replace present inadequate farm houses.

Mussolini advised his people to "live like lions," but long before that human beings were attributing animal characteristics to one another. You should be able to answer these without a zoology textbook.

1. Fill in missing words. He's as timid as a —, stubborn as a —, wild as a —, and wise as an —.

2. Who is the Conquering Lion of Judah? What King was known as the Lion-Hearted?

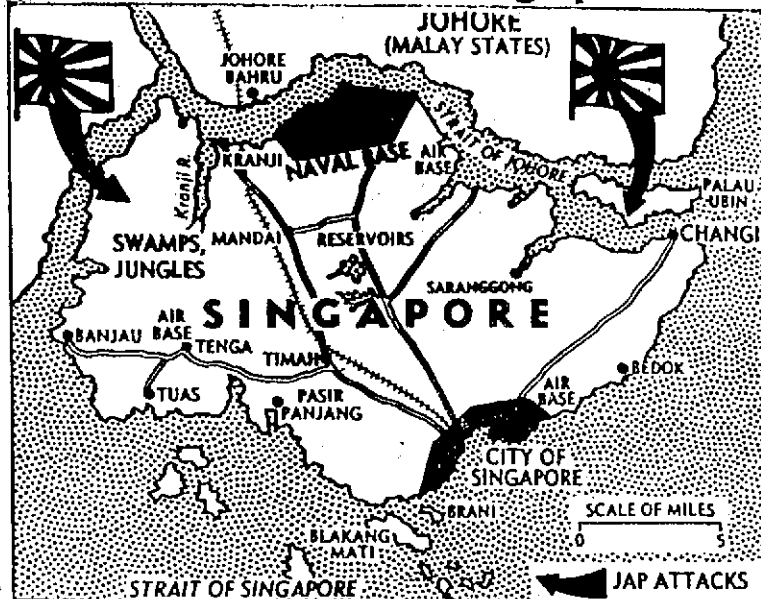

3. What major league baseball teams are known as the Tigers, Cubs, Cardinals?

4. What animal supposedly suckled what founders of what great city?

5. The magpie, fox, lamb, bull dog and bear with a sore paw are used to describe what human characteristics?

Not Sure Where Woman Died

Doctors Doubt
Part of Mary Fur-
low Death Story

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)— Coronator J. R. Carter disclosed a new mystery Tuesday in the death of dark-haired Mary Furlow, 19-year old NYA bookkeeper, whose chain-weighted body was found Sunday night in the Ouachita river at Calion.

Carter said it was uncertain where Miss Furlow died — on Grindstone Mountain in Clark county, in Union county at Calion, or somewhere between.

"The man they are holding," the coroner declared, "says he drove with the body first to Ashdown, down near the Texas line, and then over to Calion, and the doctors here say she wouldn't have died on Grindstone Mountain within 15 minutes as reported by the man in custody."

Sheriff Bill Wells has quoted the man in custody as saying Miss Furlow tried to perform an operation on herself on Grindstone Mountain, then, realizing she would die, she asked the man to dispose of her body in the river. Wells quoted the man.

Awful Autopsy
ARKADELPHIA — Prosecuting Attorney Richard Hule said Monday night a formal charge will not be filed against J. Kirby Jones, NYA supervisor in jail here, until he and Sheriff William Wells receive a report from the autopsy performed on the body of Miss May Dell Furlow at University hospital in Little Rock Tuesday. Miss Furlow's body, bound and weighted by a heavy chain, was recovered from the Ouachita river at Calion Sunday afternoon.

Sheriff Wells has correspondence between Jones and Miss Furlow, who worked as a bookkeeper for the NYA project at Ashdown before she came here in a similar capacity. The letters were exchanged since Jones transferred to Dumas. The letters discuss the condition of Miss Furlow. Jones said he acted in an advisory capacity only.

Married Men Being Reclassified in Draft

LITTLE ROCK — Many married men in Arkansas have received 1-A reclassifications from their Selective Service boards, registrants and their wives are disclosing.

Local boards have received no specific instructions to place married men in Class 1-A, but have the authority to make such reclassifications. Brig. Gen. E. L. Compere, state director, said Monday.

"Some boards have been drafting married men all the time," General Compere said.

Most of the married men being reclassified are those whose wives are working. Draft officers have indicated the status of each registrant who married after the 1940 registration day will be investigated. The degree of dependency of all "3-A" registrants' dependents will be studied.

U. S. Ships and Troops Reach Australia

Place Reinforcements on Islands
En Route From
Pearl Harbor

BOSTON —(AP)— The arrival at Wellington, N. Z., of the vanguard of a U. S. naval force was reported Tuesday to the Christian Science Monitor by its correspondent, Joseph C. Harsh, who described also the landing of U. S. reinforcements at "way stations along the route" from Pearl Harbor.

In a copyrighted story Harsch told of his landing at Wellington from a destroyer described as the first unit of Admiral Herbert F. Leary's American forces. He said landfall was reached even before the public announcement of Admiral Leary's appointment to command all allied forces in the Anzac area.

The Monitor's correspondent said he traveled part of the way from Pearl Harbor with the forces that attacked the Japanese-manned Gilbert and Marshall islands.

Thirty-three survivors reached an Hawaiian port.

In the Netherlands Indies the department reported in its communique a small formation of U. S. fighter planes shot down one enemy plane in a minor action with a flight of Japanese bombers.

Brown Men Repair Broken Causeway; Overwhelming Forces Rush Into City

Probable Loss of Singapore Poses
Four Grave New Problems for Allies on World-Wide Front

By the Associated Press

Overwhelming masses of Japanese troops swarmed onto Singapore island Tuesday forcing British imperial defenders to execute a new withdrawal in what appeared to be the dying hours of the struggle for Britain's last great stronghold in the Far Pacific.

Informed quarters in London said it was possible the Japanese had infiltrated into Singapore city itself and attacked the radio station there.

The station suddenly blanked out Tuesday morning.

Dispatches from the beleaguered city said that the din of battle intensified after dawn and that a great black pall of smoke hung over the scene of fighting. Japanese planes flew low over Singapore's outskirts and residents heard the whine of machine-gun bullets.

Artillery rumbled heavily from the west while the pre-dawn skies were red with the glow of burning oil tanks.

Tokio dispatches broadcast by the Italian radio said Japanese assault forces had driven within five miles of the downtown heart of Singapore city.

British headquarters acknowledged at 10 p. m. Monday night (11 a. m. EWT Monday) that fighting ranged only 10 miles away.

Japs Tighten Up on Java

Seeking Bomber
Bases for All-Out
Attack on NEI

BATAVIA (P)— The Japanese thrust toward Java, wealthiest and most vital of the Dutch East Indies islands, intensified Tuesday as the invaders put new landing forces ashore near Macassar, on the southwest arm of Celebes, and were reported driving on Bandjermasin, chief port on the south coast of Borneo.

In each case the Japanese were striking for footholds within easy bomber range of the important United Nations naval base at Soerabaja.

With another arm of the Japanese offensive already established at Pontianak, on Borneo's west coast, Java was preparing to meet an all-out offensive at any moment.

The Japanese attack on Macassar was seen as an indication that the Macassar strait invasion fleet was on the move again.

Jap Losses Heavy
BATAVIA —(P)— A trail of hastily dug graves through the jungle morass of west Borneo attested Tuesday to the heavy casualties stout-hearted Dutch guerrilla fighters have inflicted on Japanese forces moving south from devastated Pontianak.

Fish rang in size from 50-foot whale sharks to tiny gobies, only 1/2-inch in length.

Bounding Betty Zooms in Film Row

HOLLYWOOD — Blond, blue-eyed and pleasantly-proportioned Betty Hutton has insinuated herself into Hollywood's consciousness with about the same degree of gentleness and subtlety as a major earthquake. She seems to be the new High Priestess of Whom.

Her movie debut will burst on the screen soon in a vaudevillesque musical called "The Fleet's In," and somewhat to the detriment of the star, Dorothy Lamour, Miss Hutton is all over the place. She sings, dances and makes love with a frenzy that leaves a portion of the United States Navy hanging on the hypothetical ropes. Bob Hope calls her Vitamin B-1—with legs.

Famed to Fame
Miss Hutton's talent for violence in showmanship was discovered by accident and has rescued her from oblivion.

Son, G. W., of Arkadelphia were Sunday dinner guests of Drs. F. C. and Virginia Crow.

Friends of Mrs. Homer Fuller will be glad to know that she is able to be removed to her home following a long illness at the Julia Chester hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Carpenter of Texarkana were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stephenson.

The North Star is gradually moving toward the point of "true north."

several times since. One evening in Detroit, when she had just turned 15, she sat in a night club and fumed under the double indignity of having failed to crash the Broadway stage and of having been told sternly by her mother that she must return to school.

So when the master of ceremonies called on her for a song, she went into "The Dipsy Doodle" with a feeling of almost hysterical frustration. She not only sang loud and good, but she began cuffing the microphone, slamming around the props and making threatening gestures at the band leader. This unorthodox behavior won her a reprieve from formal education, a job as an entertainer, and a week later $65-a-week contract to sing with Vincent Lopez' band.

The Lopez engagement lasted two and a half years, being terminated by Miss Hutton under circumstances so strained that the orchestra leader sued her for $50,000 for breach of contract. With jobs in vaudeville and a 7-months' run in "Two for the Show" on Broadway, the ebullient Betty managed fairly well. But the lawsuit still irked her, and one day she charged into a lawyer's office with denunciations, demands, desk-poundings and descriptions of what she wanted done to Plaintiff Lopez.

The attorney watched her, fascinated, and reached for the telephone. To his friend, Buddy DeSylva, he said,

"I think I've got you a girl for the part of Florrie in 'Panama Hattie.' Any way, she's certainly dynamic enough."

Miss Hutton was just what the producer and the customers wanted—especially in the number where she hurled men around while singing "All I Gotta Get Now Is My Man." Got Good Part

The show was still prospering when DeSylva, having come to Hollywood and moved up to the post of production boss at Paramount, wired the bounding Betty that he had a terrific part for her in "The Fleet's In." And in a week or so, with Mary Martin, she begins a new picture titled "Happy-Go-Lucky."

Her early development and present lithe physique are the result of playing strenuous games with boys when she was a kid. "And the reason I played with boys," she said, "was because I was so darned ugly. I had a big scar on this cheek from getting pushed off a dock. And for two years my left eye was swelled up from getting hit with a golf club. And my face was loaded with freckles."

To these handicaps, add poverty. Her mother worked in an automobile factory, but there were seasonal layoffs when things were pretty bad. Beginning when she was 12, and wearing a short organdie dress, Betty would be taken on rounds of the 3.2 beer joints to sing for whatever money would be tossed to her. She sang such numbers as "Black Bottom" and "Dinah," and loved it. She still loves it.

When It Came From
The word "sleutic" comes from early trailing dogs, which were known as slough hounds, or sleuth hounds, and were used to hunt out criminals in sloughs, or bogs.

Finger-Nail Tip

Perhaps you've been wondering why your nail polish doesn't go on in that nice smooth surface you see in pictures. The answer may be in the fact that your nails aren't completely free of old polish, nail white or nail dust from the emery board. Each nail must be thoroughly cleaned before applying new polish and must

Making a Soldier of Sugar

AS we have sent men abroad to fight for America—as we have sent money—as we have drafted steel, with other commodities, into fighting-service or enlisted wheat and other fighting-foods—so we must make a soldier of sugar.

Nutrient for the nations at war is as vital to the outcome as the powder that feeds the guns. A great nutrient in time of peace—in war a veritable sinew—sugar is now called upon to play a heroic part, to supply the peoples of our Allies—whose strength is ours.

To wrap up sugar in the American flag, so to speak, and put it into the fight becomes a duty of loyalty. It will be borne cheerfully by every industry, every dealer, and every individual it falls upon. Upon certain industries it falls heavily—and especially on the workers who derive their living from the soldier. American civilian is in this war with the soldier. American business great and small, American capital from Wall Street to the remotest country bank, is with the Government every step of the way. The U. S. means U. S. We all of us, are in the fight with everything we have, for the sake of everything we cherish.

This company regards it a privilege to contribute to the war effort in any way possible, and to be able to do so is a source of great satisfaction. The end of conservation we pledge our efforts in every direction that opportunity may disclose, in manufacture as well as beyond the scope of our immediate interests; and in this effort generally we bespeak the co-operation of dealers and consumers everywhere.

THE COCA-COLA COMPANY
ATLANTA, GA.

WORLD WAR I 1917

The United States Government restricted the use of sugar in World War I. The response of The Coca-Cola Company was expressed in the newspaper advertisement reproduced at the left.

Again, Sugar enlists for Victory

WORLD WAR II 1942

History repeats itself in World War II. Sugar has been called to war again. Our government has restricted the use of sugar for all. Naturally, that includes Coca-Cola.

You'll continue to find Coca-Cola around the corner from anywhere, though we regret that you won't be able to enjoy the pause that refreshes as often as you might like. Our volume has been reduced. But this we pledge: the character of Coca-Cola will be unimpaired. The American people can continue to trust its quality.

As in 1917, we count upon the patience of dealers everywhere. Conserving sugar is another step toward Victory. Whatever any of us may have, or may not have, Victory we must have above all else!

The World's News as Told in Pictures

AMERICANS: ISN'T THIS A GREAT PICTURE?

Yes, it is. For, aside from its good photographic composition, it symbolizes the will of our fleet to hunt down the enemy and take the offensive. The new picture shows surface vessels of the Pacific fleet executing a sweeping turn beneath Navy scout planes. Note how items of plane equipment have been whited out by Navy censor.

Eastern Seaboard Ready for Air Raiders

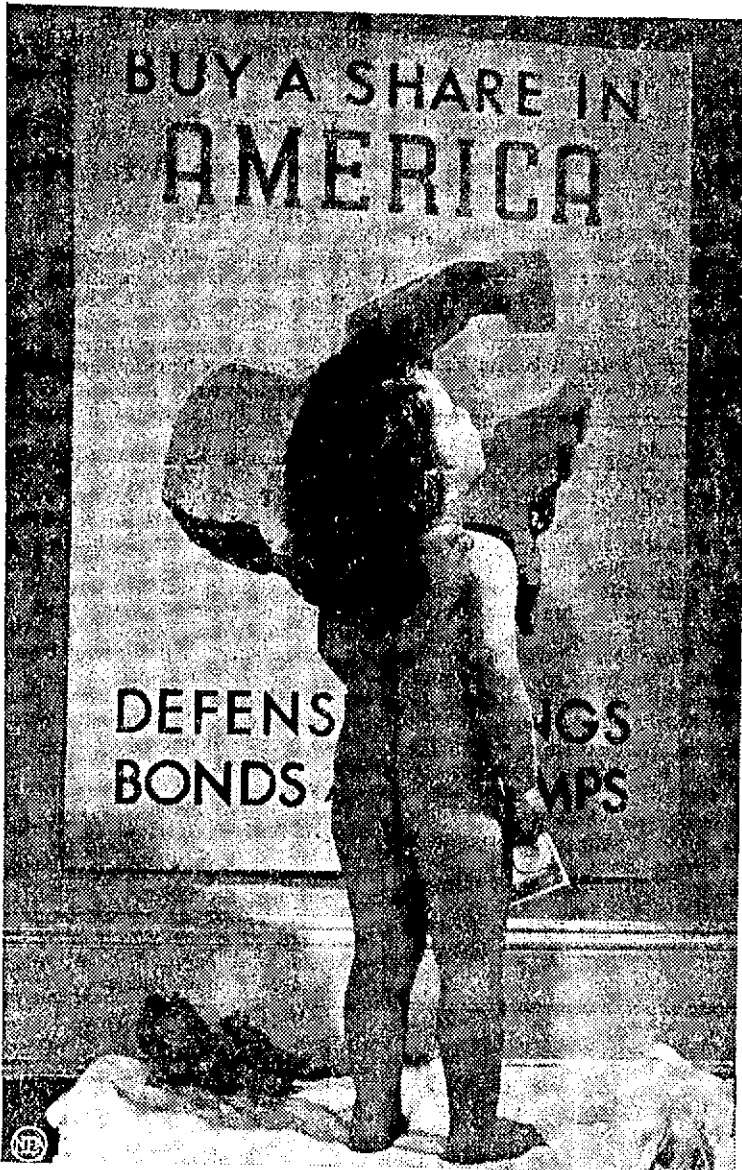

ON THE EAST COAST—Anti-aircraft gun units, in this theater under an anti-aircraft artillery command, are ready for axis air raiders—when and if they come. Here the crews of three guns of one of the anti-aircraft units run to their stations in a practice "alert," as they would if there were hostile aircraft overhead. Army censor passed this picture, and whited out possible identifying objects in background.

How MacArthur's Filipinos Made Ready for Jap Attack

When Fred Ritzen complains that his shirts are too limp, Mrs. Ritzen can blame it on that backyard blimp. Unwittingly Helps Thief Get Car Out

Bruce Rochelle, City Bakery employee, had a red face today. Yesterday he noticed a young man trying to get a 1941 Ford sedan out of a parking place on South Main. "My father left the car here," said the young man. Bruce obligingly helped him get it out of the parking place.

A moment later Bruce thought, "Darned if that car didn't look like Mr. Middlebrooks' who owns the grocery near the bakery, which uses a sedan to deliver groceries in. Bruce ran into see Mr. Middlebrooks; and they both ran out again—but the Middlebrooks car was gone. Police sent out an alarm.

provision that the courts may revoke, without jury trial, the citizenship of naturalized citizens whose "utterances, writings, actions, or course of conduct establishes that his political allegiance is to a foreign state or sovereignty."

"A citizen is a citizen, and all are equal before the law. That is a basic American principle. Yet here it is proposed to apply different standards to naturalized citizens than those applying to native-born citizens. It creates a sort of 'second-class citizenship.' Aside from doubt as to the constitutionality of such a law, it is wise thus to divide citizenship? Certainly any such proposal demands most careful consideration.

There will be many such proposals, and when it can be shown that the safety of the government and the people can be protected in no other way, some of them may be adopted. But they should not be adopted hurriedly or without the fullest consideration of the long-range results. We may well keep in mind the words of the United States Supreme Court in the Milligan case after the Civil War: "The Constitution of the United States is a law for rulers and people, equally in war and peace, and covers with the shield of its protection all classes of men, at all times, and under all circumstances. No doctrine involving more pernicious consequences was ever invented by wit of man than that any of its provisions can be suspended during any of the great exigencies of government."

Berardino, Chaves Find Out About Army Aviation Cadets

By JERRY McLAIN
NEA Special Correspondent

HIGLEY, Ariz. — Two of the better athletes who are learning the intricacies of flying as U. S. Army aviation cadets are Johnny Berardino and Martin Chaves.

Berardino was the brilliant shortstop of the St. Louis Browns. He played his college baseball at Southern California.

Chaves, a guard, started 1942 by capturing an underdog Oregon State football team into a transplanted Rose Bowl victory over Duke in Durham.

Today the two are undergoing basic training at Williams Field near here. It's easy to see why flying would appeal to the two young men. The romantic, devil-may-care sort of life is made to order for athletes.

To date they have found little glamour, however, and they're too busy for devil-may-care.

Army aviation cadets are drilling these days—marching, close order drill and routine for six hours a day at reception or replacement centers. For five weeks prior to assignment to primary training centers, they are drilled, sent to ground school, vaccinated and generally prepared to be officers and gentlemen.

Uncle Sam intends to make well-rounded men of aviation cadets, judging by the report of an Arizona boy assigned to a replacement center. From his description, cadets are due for a rigid training program.

"You have to learn to speak, eat, walk and sleep all over again—in the West Point way," explains the trainee. "It will be nice to be an officer so I can use a chair again to sit in while I eat."

"Right now it amounts to squatting at attention, using the chair as a prop. We use only the front four inches and use only one arm during the process of eating, the other being held stiffly down at your side—not daintily draped across your lap."

"And the plate? Well, it's no longer a plate. It's a clock. When you're eating, the knife is parallel to the edge of the table, edge toward the eater, at 12 o'clock position. Your glass is also at 12, cup at 1 o'clock, and bowl, if any, at 3.

"When you're through eating, the knife, for hand spoon are placed side by side on a line from 4 to 10 o'clock, with the edge of the knife angled toward the eater, and the napkin over a 9. The plate then is properly 'dressed.'" perclassman yells: 'Prepare to rise!' We then hunch our shoulders to let him know we heard. Then 'Rise!' We stand at attention. Then at 'Dismissed' we turn and face the aisle and file out when it's our turn.

Sit at Attention: Prepare to Rise

"There's plenty of goo stuff to eat. Everything from pickles and olives to ice cream.

"The more 'sirs' you can throw into your speech, the better you get along. When you speak to an upper-classman you begin with a 'sir' and end with a 'sir'.

"When he asks your name, the reply is: 'Sir, new aviation cadet, Jones, J. J., sir'—nothing else. When he asks for your serial number, you'd better know it, and zeros are zeros, not 'ohs'.

Double Trouble at Michigan State

By NEA Service
EAST LANSING—It isn't that Michigan State coaches see double. It's the four identical twins on Spartan squads. For three years football and baseball teams have seen the Davis boys, Wyman and Wilford. The boxing team has the Zurakowskis, Wil and Wat. The Jennings pair, Merle and Burl, are N. C. A. A. wrestling champions. Latest addition to the carbon-copy are the Fernstrums, Bill and Ben of the freshmen track team. Coach Fran Dietrich says it is impossible to tell the Fernstrums apart.

Most creatures that became extinct in modern times did so through the stupidity of man.

Slacks For Women Win British O. K.

LONDON—(P)—Reluctant about it at first, British officialdom now is rapidly putting pants on its war girls.

Latest are navy blue slacks issued to WAFFS for use during air raid alerts. They are designed to be slipped on quickly to provide warmth and protection in the ARP shelters on RAF airbases during winter months.

Even for civilian wear slacks are becoming increasingly common. A year ago they caused Londoners' heads to turn in disapproval.

Less than a year ago a proposal that women postmen wear slacks caused a furore in the staid General Postoffice.

Now the GPO has its own type of slacks for women and issues them by dozens.

Former French Ship Capsizes After New York Fire

NEW YORK—(P)—The United States Navy's largest auxiliary, the 80,000-ton former French liner Normandie, lay capsized, fire-ravaged and water-logged at her icy Hudson diver pier at New York Tuesday as the result of an industrial accident as destructive as the work of a bomber squadron.

Renamed the Lafayette after her seizure by the United States last December, the 60-million-dollar vessel toppled to port at 2:45 a. m. (EWT) under pressure of the incoming tide in the dramatic sequel to a fire set off by sparks from a welding torch.

Shifting of tons of water used to control the flames Monday put the ship off balance. All personnel was ordered off after a 21-degree list developed. Of the 2,000 workmen preparing the vessel for war duty when the fire broke out one was killed and 220 were injured.

It doesn't make pants. It keeps their creases straight. That is a SERVICE.

→ This is Style

We don't have the same styles now that we did around the turn of the century.

Styles are IDEAS.

This is a Newspaper

It contains advertisements. Advertisements are vehicles that carry messages. THESE MESSAGES SELL THINGS. They can sell PRODUCTS—like pants. They can sell SERVICES—like pants pressing. They can sell IDEAS—like styles.

Newspaper ads can sell products because they can show them with pictures, explain their merits and quote their prices with words, and tell the members of the local community where the products can be bought.

Newspaper ads can sell services by showing what they are, who renders them, where they can be obtained and how much they cost.

When it comes to selling ideas, newspaper advertisements have unlimited uses. By economical repetition—

... they have taught people to brush their teeth.

... they have inspired people to support many charities.

... they have made a laughing stock of the idea, "The automobile will never replace the horse."

THERE HAS NEVER BEEN A BETTER WAY INVENTED TO MAKE IDEAS STICK THAN THE POWER OF THE PRINTED WORD.

When business is better in this town everybody benefits. When everybody in the town knows what's going on all over the world, each man can tell better how to vote, what to buy and how to protect himself.

Read these ads each week. Tell your friends to read them. They tell you what an important part your newspaper has in helping you to know what's going on, so you can decide what you personally are going to do about it all.

The publisher of this paper wants to serve the community the best he possibly can. If you have any suggestions or questions or criticisms, don't hesitate to write him a letter. It will receive personal attention.
